Four Legged Friends find Love on Valentine's Day ♥
High Hopes® and the Anti-Cruelty Society Help Make the Perfect Match
All Adoption Fees Waived from noon to 5 p.m.!

Love is in the air, and Valentine's Day is the perfect time to adopt that new family member you've been wanting. On February 14, High Hopes is sponsoring all cat and dog adoption fees at The Anti-Cruelty Society in Chicago.

The Anti-Cruelty Society Adoption Center (510 N. LaSalle St., Chicago) will open its doors Sunday, February 14, from noon -5 p.m. and High Hopes will be sponsoring adoption fees for cats and dogs to as many loving adopters as possible. "Our company mission is to help homeless pets, and what better way to help than to host a fee waived adoption event with The Anti-Cruelty Society?" said Paula Etchison, Founder & Pack Leader of High Hopes (www.highhopesforpets.com). High Hopes helps homeless pets 365 days a year by donating a portion from every sale of its products to The High Hopes for Pets Foundation - who in turn, donates to local shelter and rescue groups. To date, forty-five $500 grants have been disbursed.

High Hopes will be sending all dog adopters (sorry, no kitty products just yet) home with a free goodie bag of High Hopes' dog food and treats. As nutritious as they are delicious, all High Hopes products are natural, made in the USA, and developed by a pet nutritionist with a Ph.D. in Animal Nutrition. You and your new best friend can also pose for a photo and be featured on the High Hopes Happy Tale Endings page on their website.

About The High Hopes for Pets Foundation

The High Hopes for Pets Foundation is a not-for-profit foundation whose sole mission to help support the many individuals and groups dedicated to helping homeless pets everywhere. The High Hopes Brand donates 3.5% of every sale (up to 15% of the Company's profits) to the Foundation, who disburses the funds to local animal care groups.
